

Random acts of kindness bingo

- Smile as you pass people
- Write a thank you note to the person that makes or buys your lunch
- Help clean up a mess that's not yours
- Offer space to someone to sit or join in
- Pick up some litter

- Stash a sneaky note to a friend telling them what you appreciate about them
- Keep your cool when someone bumps you or cuts the line
- Pick up some litter
- Say thank you with meaning
- Invite someone into the game

Print onto A4 card, then cut out so each ākonga has a tiny card of activities to do. They can keep these in their pocket for the day to remind them.

- Include everyone in the activity
- Support someone with a tricky task
- Let others use your things that they need
- Leave a thank you note for someone unexpected
- Be patient with someone

- Check in on your friends to see if they're okay today
- Say sorry if you banged or bumped someone accidentally
- Let someone go in front
- Count on one hand 5 things or people you're grateful for
- Hold the door or gate for the next person

- Offer to help someone who needs a hand
- Say way more positive things today
- Share one of your skills with a friend and help them to learn too.
- Supporting someone who is having a hard time
- Try listening at Kai time and classroom kōrero more than you speak - what have I learned about others?

